

Rome was ours, and my regiment travelled through Rome at two o'clock in the morning, and then stopped for a few days at 'Trasiemo Lake', to enjoy proper food, a bath, change of clothing and a good rest. It didn't last long before we were off to other battle fields; 'The Gustav Line', followed by the 'Hitler Line'.

We were in Austria, on May 8th 1945 when the war was declared over, after seven year of active service.
